“ Abel was a caring, loving, outgoing and thoughtful person. I met him in 2009, when my mother was in the York hospital, when he brought my son Jacob there to see his grandmother. He made me laugh and held me while I cried. After my mother passed he called me at least once a week for over a month just to see how I was. I've seen him numerous times since then. He was someone very very special. And will be missed.
