

Bernard J. Haynes

February 25, 2013

Bernard J. Haynes, 90, of Willow Street, PA, passed away on Thursday, February 21, 2013 at Willow Valley's Lakeside. He was the husband of the late Dorothy Fryburger Haynes. Born in Akron, Ohio, he was the son of Bernard A. and Thelma R. Haynes.

He served in the Marine Corps in the Pacific during World War II, and attained the rank and position of drill sergeant.

A lifelong resident and supporter of Cincinnati, Bernard retired from the Stearns and Foster Mattress Company, where he worked for 35 years. With his wife, he was an avid collector of minerals and gemstones, and later, of early mining artifacts and memorabilia. After his move to Willow Valley, he became an ardent fan of the Philadelphia Phillies.

He is survived by his daughter Susan Hirsch of Dayton, OH; his daughter Cynthia and his son-in-law David DiSavino of Lancaster, and his granddaughters, Jennifer Hirsch of Chicago, and Katherine DiSavino of New York City.

At Bernard's request, there will be no service in Lancaster. There will be a private graveside service at Rest Haven Cemetery in Montgomery, Ohio at a date to be determined.

Tribute Wall

“ Bernard J. Haynes

October 22, 2023 at 11:34 PM

“ I will always remember Bernie as a mentor as I was growing up next door to him since I was 2 years old and 25 years later working with him in product development at Stearns and Foster and having him as a golf partner in the S&F golf league. We had many conversations at work, on the golf course and on the back porch. His contribution to the community was also inspiring to me as a WW II Vet and later in retirement his contribution to the Cincinnati Museum of Natural History as a volunteer in relocating the mineral exhibit from the Gilbert Ave building to the Union Terminal location.

Jeff Welling - February 26, 2013 at 01:39 PM