“ Hello,

I have just seen this. I'm truly sorry about your loss. Not only have you lost the love one in 2019 of Mr. Horst and now the loss of Mrs. Horst not too long after. She was a fabulous women. I have tried calling to do an update with her on herself and with her health. I know she was going through a lot with her health the time I spent out on the front porch with her talking about her loving husband. I was a caretaker for her husband for many months. She was blessed to have me as her husband caretaker knowing I could always put a smile on both of their faces ever time I spent the hours with them. With me texting Mrs. Horst and I was not getting a response back from her like I always do I had to look deeper and I found this post. If anyone could please give me details on her cemetery is located so I may visit and add flowers to show my respect please let me know if it's okay with the family. I would like to also know where the cemetery is also located with her husband John. We had plans to go and visit together and sit in front of the couch together sipping on coffee and watch the Western Movies together and just talk about all the good times together, but we had not had that chance yet since the pandemic hit. My name is Amber and I helped care for her husband in the past. I'm truly sorry to have just now found out about this. You are all in my ❤️ and they will both be truly missed.

“ So deeply sorry for the loss of such a beautiful spirit. I will always remember Bev for her strength that she showed as she cared for John while also facing her own health issues. She was an amazing lady and I was blessed to have gotten to know her. With deep sympathy to her daughters as I know how much she confessed her love of you and her grandchildren.

“ Michele and Lea - your Mother was an AMAZING, wonderful and beautiful lady. I worked with Bev at Good's Furniture for over 10 years. In addition to being a perfectionist at work, her first priority was always "her daughters". Know that you were the "loves of her life." I am so sorry for your loss but know that she is in a good place as she has been reunited with John.
