Thank You Lois , she definitely is at peace now she fought a very hard battle and for her she also won the war as she is with the lord no suffering and no pain . I miss her terribly but it is my own selfishness and I remember she is with God and with family and father have gained their wings . She has shown us a few signs that she is at peace and looking over us . Yes we had many of good times at the cabin , my fondest memories are your Grandfather and John having church service down along the river .

“ George, Austin, and I are saddened by your passing, Deb, but we are happy that you are pain free now, are reunited with our Lord, and with your beloved family and friends.

Thank you for being so good to Austin over the years. We will always be grateful to you for the love you showed him. He loves his "Aunt Deb."

We will always remember how Bill, Alan, and you always treated Austin like your own blood nephew. We feel very fortunate that we were able to see you and thank you for that love and affection for Austin before you left us. Godspeed, Deb.
