“ Mark, the other night I told you about how Deb was always there for me when I had breast cancer. The thing I think about the most: I was having a particularly difficult day, and your mom had stopped by. I was laying on the sofa, and I really had no desire to talk. I just wanted to be alone. Your mom just sat on the settee under the window. I can see it like it happened yesterday! She didn't say anything, just sat there. Later, I realized the reason she did that, was just in case I needed her. I wish I could have thanked her for that. Also, remember how much fun we had making food for the holidays! May she rest in peace.
