“ She was a sweet lady. She liked to tell stories of how she helped people. She was an excellent cook and was careful what she ate. I am sure that had something to do with her long life. Many, many people were blessed by her red and white geraneums which she planted along side her villa at Woodcrest Villa every year. They were highly visible from Harrisburg Pike. She arose before 5 AM to care for them. She will really be missed. I extend my sympathies to her family. Paul H. Buckwalter, EA
