“ To a man who always made me laugh as a child when I came over to play with your son Chris, whom I went to school with and was my best friend growing up. Your kindness and playfulness will never be forgotten. May your new life with God be as beautiful as we all could imagine. We will miss you and never forget you. God bless your family that you have brought into this world, that they can be strong through this time of your transformation with God. To the Hackart family - I am very sorry for your loss of a good man, husband, brother and father. Remain strong and remember all the good times and memories Mr. Hackart has given each of you. Keep close to your mother, she will need you all the most now. God bless you all.

“ Oh Georgie, I know you are now with Jesus because you and I often talked about being saved when we worked together at Armstrong in the SPCD Dept. I will always remember you for how you would make me laugh, especially the time we went on a company trip to Knobel's Grove and I had a gash on the top of my nose and explained that my pet parrot took a bite - to which you said Barney must of thought, "Look at the beak on THAT!!!" RIP Georgie and one day soon I'll be joining you in Heaven. Always your friend, Debi Lefever from Armstrong
