She was the youngest of eight children, preceded in death by her sister and best friend, Dorothy (Sis) See, and brothers, Andrew, Harry, Richard, Elmer, Theodore, and John.

She retired from Pantry Pride (formerly Food Fair) after 30 years and spent much of her retired life as a member of AARP and Guys & Dolls, traveling, playing cards, and visiting casinos with family and friends.

“ I knew Grace and Musser for over 60 years from boating . We went with them to the Navel Academy by the Chesapeake Bay. It was so much fun, and I spent the night on the beautiful “ Polly Wog “ . I was a very young girl , I'd say 5-8, and Grace was so beautiful and wore a beautiful charm bracelet. She and Musser (that's what we called your dad) bought me my first charm bracelet for Christmas with a Santa charm on it. I still have that and filled up the bracelet ! Both your parents were soooo nice, and very well liked by everyone at Gablers. We ate a lot of crabs with them !!! God bless your family. My sincere condolences are with you all.
