I had Mr. Hoover as a student-teacher in 1960-61. I came back to MTHS as a teacher in 1967 and got to know Jake in a totally different light. He was an amazing teacher as well as friend. My sumpathies to your family.

My condolences to the family of Mr. Hoover. I loved having him as a teacher of History/World Cultures as a high school Freshman. My memory of him is that he embodied all the good qualities a teacher can exemplify. Not long ago I came across the Heraldry project that I made for his class...and I'm sure most of my classmates think of Mr. Hoover whenever the concept of a Catapult is mentioned!

Mr. Hoover was my Senior year homeroom teacher and World Studies teacher. I was in the class of '67 and he told me he felt very close to our class. He attended several of our class reunions, including our 50th in 2017. I have a picture of him and my best friend Rich Weaver that I will forever cherish. He never forgot our homeroom gift to him on our last day of the school year - a six pack of beer, wrapped in tin foil, that he hid in his lower left desk drawer until the end of the school day. On my infrequent trips to Lancaster, I would stop by the high school and visit him. In his ever present gracious way he would welcome me and show me how the building had been modified to meet current needs, feeling very proud of the changes and improvements. Teachers don't normally feel close to their students for long, but Mr. Hoover (it took me a while to be comfortable calling him Jake) always made me feel like a close friend, even after only spending a year with him. It is only now that I realize how close in age we are. Jake, please know that you were a positive influence on me, as an example of how to be an adult. The picture of you in our yearbook reading to your son was a positive role model for me. Thank you, Jake, for presenting an example of how to be an good person to us males. I will miss you. I have a picture of you and Sweaty Eddie sitting in the stands at a football game, with your sunglasses on, that I wanted to send to you. But now I will keep it as a keepsake. God bless you, you wonderful man. God bless Sandy for sharing your with us.

Our sympathies to the family of Mr. Hoover. He was my history teacher in 9th grade, one of the few teachers I have fond memories of. Mr. Hoover excelled at his job, he treated students respectfully, made history interesting, and didn't think I was stupid. He even remembered both my husband and I almost 30 years later! He was definitely the gold standard.
