

James I. Starr

March 31, 2011

James I. Starr, 84, of Manheim Township, Lancaster, died on March 11, 2011 at his residence. Born in Butler, PA on June 18, 1926, he was the son of the late James I., Sr. and Ida S. (Mitchell) Starr. Mr. Starr was preceded in death by his wife of 48 years, Janet Robertson Starr on January 11, 2002.

He served in the United States Army Air Force during World War II. He attended Oberlin College and graduated from University of Pittsburgh. He worked for 45 years in the printing industry and retired from Science Press after 20 years.

Mr. Starr is survived by his daughter Lynn, married to E. Mark Creamer, granddaughter Janet L. Creamer all of Manheim Township and a sister. He was preceded in death by two sisters and one brother. Services will be private at the convenience of the family. Interment in Landis Valley Cemetery.

Tribute Wall

“ James I. Starr

October 22, 2023 at 11:34 PM

“ O.K. so maybe I cheated a little by going through all your book reviews before coming up with an answer. I'd never heard of Raider's from the Sea before but sounds pretty interesting Sounds like the sort of story line Nicole and I would make up Just for fun, here's a quote for you to guess Leah: For a moment, Rosamund stared at the boxes, then suddenly she closed her eyes and, taking them up at hazard, stretched out her arms, leaning forward over the edge of the dais [the box] in Rosamund's left hand falling to Godwin and that in her right to Wulf. (I skipped a bit in the middle to stay fairly short but not too obscure.) Any guesses?

Alfredo - December 21, 2015 at 11:20 PM