“ As we come together to celebrate the life of our dear Aunt Joey let's not forget how close she was with her Brothers and Sisters. Yes we will miss her dearly but she is now at peace and reunited with her Siblings. They are all rejoicing together. We as the next generation need remember how much fun they would have when they got together. And the fun we would have as well I truly miss those days. There's too much going on in the world today. We as a family need to get it together. We all know that's what they want for us. I love my Boyer family.
