“ Josiah G. "Josey" "Joe" Pieller

October 22, 2023 at 11:34 PM

“ Josiah Pieller and I were very good friends on Facebook, but I am only seeing this announcement for the first time right now and I am so heartbroken to learn of his death. I have not been on Facebook very much since losing my husband in early May, due to my own grief, but I am stunned and so saddened to learn my dear brother Josiah is also gone at such a young age. We talked often up until a few months ago when my husband's health really began to deteriorate at rapid speed. Josiah had a huge impact upon me because we both shared a love for God's Word and for the truth. I will miss him terribly and my heart truly hurts today at this incredible loss. 😞

I am sending lots of hugs and prayers to his his family right now as together we rest upon the sovereignty of God, knowing our loved ones are safe with Christ, in His presence, and free from all pain and suffering. ❤️💜❤️

May the God of all comfort be your strength today and in the days ahead. Amen! 💜

“ There is now a place of loss in my heart. Josiah left a legacy behind him with thousands of people joining Christian groups he created on social media, and he always handled the Word of God with loyalty to the truth, to honor God and worship God in Spirit and in truth, as Jesus commanded us to do. We will always miss Josiah, yet we praise God for placing us all on the same Christian path together. In the Blessed Hope, we will all be brought together again with Christ Jesus, the Lord.

“ Thanks for your friendship and all the laughs while we were together at Teen Challenge. You made a very tough season much more bearable. Your wit, sense of humor, and insight will not be forgotten. I'm sad to say goodbye to you now, but I know you are in the presence of our Lord where there is no more hurt, sorrow, struggle or pain. In Christ there are no goodbyes...See you later my brother. My condolences to your family. God be with them and comfort them through this challenging season.

I met Josiah when he started to attend our church this past year. Within a short period of time, he endeared himself to many. He stood out as someone who was soft spoken, but ready with some dry humor when you least expected it! He joined our worship team and shared his musical gift for the guitar with over the course of many weeks. I had the great honor of serving on the team with him and was touched by his humility, gentle presence, and love for worship. He wasn't seeking to stand out and be recognized, but to point to Jesus. We miss him very much! We are comforted knowing that we will see Josiah again one day and once again, worship our Savior together with him. Much love and prayers for his sweet Mama and family. ❤️

“ My deepest condolences to Josiah's family and friends. I did not know him personally. But, I was a member of some of the same Facebook groups that he was also a member. He became a close brother in Christ to a lot of our mutual friends. It is amazing that even though you have never met a person in real life how you can become connected from so far away. So, we all feel a sadness and mourn with you over his death. But, we also celebrate knowing that he is alive with Christ and that we shall all reunite again someday.

“ I always remember Josiah with a smile and a handshake. He remembered me from Crossway when ever we ran into one another like at The Wyomissing Family Restaurant. It made me feel good and now I know he feels good being with the Lord now in person and not just when here. I'm happy for him! Donna Smith

Josiah's life has been a testimony of what God did for us sinners. I pray that Josiah's family and friends will be comforted by God's love. Josiah will be missed. His life made an impact on this world.

If I could canonise you as the patron saint of Christ-like memes and fun, I would. You were blessed, Josiah. God worked in you.

I didn't know you outside of the FB group Church History. Yet even that fragmented, partial acquaintance showed me you were high quality! So sad at your "coronation"!

My dear brother in Christ, your time here was simply a "dream" compared to the everlasting glory that our Father ushered you into just a few days ago. I am grateful to have met you, and to know that one day we will see each other in perfection.

Finally Home

*When engulfed by the terror of the tempestuous sea,
Unknown waves before you roll;
At the end of doubt and peril is eternity,
Though fear and conflict seize your soul.*

*But just think of stepping on shore-And finding it Heaven!
Of touching a hand-And finding it God's!
Of breathing new air-And finding it celestial!
Of waking up in glory-And finding it home!*

*When surrounded by the blackness of the darkest night,
O how lonely death can be;
At the end of this long tunnel is a shining light,
For death is swallowed up in victory!*

*But just think of stepping on shore-And finding it Heaven!
Of touching a hand-And finding it God's!
Of breathing new air-And finding it celestial!
Of waking up in glory-And finding it home!*
