

Judith S. "Jill" Zimmerman

February 12, 2017

Following a brief illness, Judith S. "Jill" Zimmerman, 81, died on Sunday, February 12, 2017, at Hospice and Community Care while surrounded by members of her devoted family. She was born in Bridgeport, Connecticut, the daughter of the late Paul and Marion Strubel.

Jill graduated from The Hopkins School in New Haven, Connecticut, in 1953 and from Centenary Junior College in Hackettstown, New Jersey, in 1955. She became an accomplished miniaturist and long-time member of the International Guild of Miniaturist Artisans and enjoyed annual participation at the Guild's workshop conferences in Castine, Maine.

Jill's primary focus has always been her family, including her husband, Simon R. Zimmerman, III, with whom she has resided in Lancaster County since their marriage in 1955, her five children, Marion, Simon IV, Martha (Bill Mathesius), Julia, and Paul (Jennifer Kegel), and her eleven grandchildren, as well as her brothers/sisters-in-law and their children, all of whom have benefitted from and cherish their memories of the many years of her guidance, creativity, generosity, adventuresome spirit, and loving presence.

At the request of the family, services will be private.
