“ I work at the Gardens at Steven and was here when Judy first came to us at the home. She was a piece of work. Once Billy passed I would go in and talk to her, the stories she would tell me. On Sundays when she would have her church show on I would stop by and she used to tell me I needed a little Jesus in my life. So I would watch the show with her for a while and she said see its not that bad is it Marci. I was like no its not Judy. Then we both would laugh. I looked forward talking to Judy, she would always bring a smile to my face. No matter what I would say she would always goes oh Marci you no I didn't do that. hehe. I would hear the train go by and tell her there is Billy saying hello to you then she would get this big smile on her face and tell me he loved trains.

Judy you will be missed by myself and so many here at the home. But you can be will Billy now and smile and run around. Till we meet again my dear friend, keep flying high.

Love ya,

“ I'm a Housekeeper & Laundry worker at The Gardens At Steven's where Judy passed. I'd joke around with Judy pretty much daily. I'd be walking down the hall past her room and I'd here her say, "Oh, There goes Jaime!" My greatest memory though of Judy actually comes from a time that had working at the nursing home quite emotionally and hard, During the pandemic before Judy's husband Bill passed he would write Judy love letters and draw her pictures. At this time I solely worked as a housekeeper so knowing I'd eventually go into Judy's room to clean her room Bill would give me said love letters and/or drawings and as me to deliver them to Judy since at this time we weren't allowing residents to comingle to hopefully contain the virus from spreading further. I'd happily agree and tuck the letters/drawings into my back pocket to keep them safe and then I'd give them to Judy when I got to her room. Judy often even after Bills passing and the end of the pandemic tell me just how much that ment to her. I'm so glad and honored that I got to be not only a part of this moment in Judy's life but the main person in making this memory possible. Since Judy's passing I go into the room she was in and all I can do is look at her now empty bed and I'd be lying if I didn't say with a tear in my eyes I think to myself, "Not just I, but WE miss you Judy!" Judy was definitely a woman of great faith and as a Christian myself I can't wait to see her once again when it's my turn to be called to Heaven!"

“ Judy was one of my special cousins! Our fathers were brothers and our mothers were great friends! When we would visit, we'd have lots of fun playing!! When they lived in Reamstown we'd walk up to the Reamstown Elementary school to play on the playground. Judy was also in the same room as me!! Love you Judy!!❤️❤️
