“ Jess & Anthony and Families,

It is hard to find words to express the sorrow I feel for all of you. You have all been in our thoughts and prayers through out this week and we will continue, so you all may find some comfort and peace of mind. It is hard enough losing a loved one, but when that cherished person is a child it makes everything so much harder. Children are the light of our lives, we look forward to watch what they will come up with, Leilani was one every person watched closely, her liveliness curiosity and imagination, were exceptional. The light she brought to everyone, was indescribable, her vibrant personality drew people close to her, and would melt the heart of the crankiest of people. Her memory will live on in the hearts of everyone, And just as she was a little angel here on this earth, she now has wings, and will be watching over and waiting for you all, and when you feel the tickle of and odd breeze kiss your cheek or brush your shoulder it will be this darling child's wings kissing away your sorrow, and bring you a hug, so you will know she is always at your side.

If anyone of you need anything at anytime, please do not hesitate to call me, grief is a hard road to walk alone, look to God for strength, lean on your friends for support.

may God bless and keep you safely cradled in the palm of his hand during this most difficult time

Much Love & Bear Hugs to all

“ How she inspired me

*I lost a little love today
Like a dove she flew away*

*Oh I wish everyone could see
All the things she aspired to be*

*Way to soon, she couldn't stay
With her wings she flew away*

A part of my heart she took from me Forever changed, I will always be

*I wish that she were here to play
I am left to wait for another day*

Now she is free

“ This week I have thought about this tragedy and prayed for your family. I met this beautiful Angel at your wedding blowing out the candles on the tables and laughing. She was a precious soul with so much to give! Remember the Good, forgot the bad, and above all know she is waiting in Heaven for her loved ones! May God Bless your Family through this test of strength. I love you all!
