“ My best memories of my grandma are baking while licking beaters and spatulas, she would even let me experiment in making cookies. We always played go fish and old maid, I always tried to make her take the old maid card. My favorite books she read to me were little red hen and the poky little puppy and the three billy goats gruff. So many wonderful memories. She was the best grandma a girl could have. I also remember typing on my grandpa's type writer alot and leaving little notes on the desk in the dining room. She will forever remain in my heart and soul forever. Love you grandma.
