“ I have many memories of Mary and Sam going back to when we both lived in New Jersey, went to the same Presbyterian church and belonged to the same beach club. It had to be 1963 to 1965. My name is Judy Pascarella and my husband's name was Mike Pascarella (deceased). I just happened to type in Mary's name today to see if there was an obit for her. Sounds morbid but because I am 86, and Mary and I had stopped sending Christmas cards, I have no news of old friends. I knew that Sam had passed a few years ago. Mike and I became good friends with Sam and Mary, and even though Mike and I moved frequently, we always kept in touch. I remember especially a visit that Sam, Mary & kids made to our home when we lived in Pittsburgh. That had to be sometime in 1968 or 1969. That was when Sam spilled hot coffee in his lap and had to stop at an ER & were late getting to our house. When we met we were young and having kids, Two of our sons shared the same name - Steve and John. The last time I saw Sam and Mary was when my Mother and I drove from Silver Spring, MD to Lancaster and spent the day visiting. Not sure of the date, but it probably was in the early 1990's. The photo of Mary is exactly how I remember her. I will always remember the warm friendship we had over the years. Judy Pascarella, 6110 W. 120th St., Apt. 155, Overland Park, KS 66209

“ From the moment I knew who my "Aunt Mary" was as a little girl, to the last time I saw her this past September, she remained one of the most beautiful ladies I'd even known. She filled my childhood with such happiness! Trips between our families for Thanksgiving, summers at the shore in Avalon always had me in complete awe of her beauty, poise, playfulness, every excited voice she used when addressing on of us kids, or the many animals around the house. She was perpetually "Doris Day" in my minds eye, always smiling, always happy, always loving and always welcoming. My daddy's little sister shared his eyes, and mannerism so much my last visit was so touching for me, to just sit with her, not words, just looking, knowing, experiencing all the memories in those glances of days gone by, camp with my sweet cousin Kim, rides on Putt-Putt, following her footsteps in the sand. I'm grateful to have had such a lovely soul in my life. And now, knowing she is at peace with Uncle Sam, my mom and dad and her sister, Aunt Marnie and Uncle Dick, the six of them, back together, laughing and having a blast, makes me smile. And Grandma and Grandpa too! Love you all - Leslie Lessig
