“ Just missing you mommy. You were my best friend my whole life and I only wish understood that sooner. I am so grateful for all our time. So glad you were always there whether it was as a homeroom mom or for girl scouts or church groups or picture day or field trips... for the birth of my precious angels, even when you hadn't left the house in so long. You were always strong when I was weak, always kind when I was upset, always there no matter what. I hope I can live up to the example you set with me, our family, friends and the community. Memories continue to fall short when I want to hug you or hear your words of wisdom, but I remain grateful and thankful to have had so much time with this amazing lady. 💕

“ We attended the memorial service and the last song On Eagles Wings reminded me of an experience I had when I was the rehabilitation hospital. I saw angels wings and as they moved their wings I felt such peace as I was laying in the bed, and I asked God what it meant. He said it was the prayers of all the people praying for me. I felt a force going over me, peaceful and powerful. I hope June's family can feel the peace of God as we are praying for them now is this their season of loss.

My mother would have loved your beautiful story. Thank you again for sharing it with us and with her. I believe she knows now how beloved she is. I could not have had a more wonderful mother.
