“ I knew Ted as a teenager when we both in the youth group at Ross Street UMC in Lancaster. At a retreat, we were asked who we admire and who we would want to be like. I don't recall what I or the others said (maybe Abraham Lincoln or some famous baseball player). Ted said, "My dad." I didn't know Ted later in life, but I suspect he carried out his wishes to be like his dad, George, who was a good guy and a real character. I'm sad to hear of Ted's passing. My condolences to his family.

“ Ted was a dear, wonderful friend of which we were friends since 1980. We lived in the same apt complex and one day Ted and Mike were playing frisbee in the back of the complex. They started talking and they found out that Ted's wife, Dawn was pregnant and Mike's wife, Carol was pregnant also. We became close friends and remained good friends ever since. We had many adventures together like camping in VA on vacation, lots and lots of concerts, vacations, picnics, yearly birthday parties, Christmas get togethers. We had so many great wonderful times. Ted and Dawn are very special wonderful friends whom we love very much. Ted would go to our son's baseball and basketball games and even their college games. Mike and Ted shared their love of sports even though Ted loved the Yankees and Mike loved the Phillies. We had fun with our kids and theirs. Mike and Ted spent a lot of time as they had the same interest in music and they started playing guitar and drums in our basement. We were so touched when we seen the video that his wonderful children put together to renew their vows. Ted and Dawn both were so blessed that his children did that for them. Words cannot express how saddened we are with his passing. It doesn't seem real. We are deeply sorry for his wonderful wife, Dawn, children Josh and Val and grandchildren, sisters and mother. We would visit him weekly when his health was declining. Ted never complained. Our thoughts and prayers are with the family now and always. Please know we love you all. We are very sad too as we lost a dear friend.
